

LIVESTOCK MORTALITY COMPOSTING

CERTIFICATION IS REQUIRED TO LEGALLY COMPOST
LIVESTOCK MORTALITY ON-FARM IN OHIO

Don't miss this opportunity to be certified!!

Currently approved livestock species:

- Poultry Swine Sheep Goats Horses
 Cattle (except those >2 yrs. with neurological disease symptoms, unless authorized by ODA)

Monday, November 24, 2008

7:00 p.m.- 9:00 p.m.
Rural Services Building
225 Underwood Street, Zanesville

Registration Fee ~ $10.00/ Farm

Course Overview

- ⇒ Principles & Operation
- ⇒ Site Selection & Design Options
- ⇒ Facility Sizing
- ⇒ Compost Facility Management & Utilization
- ⇒ Bio-Security & Disease Prevention
- ⇒ Rules & Regulations
- ⇒ Economics of Composting
- ⇒ Trouble Shooting

Sponsored by:

Composting - A Natural Way to Recycle

- ⇒ Cost effective
- ⇒ Environmentally sound
- ⇒ Destroys pathogens
- ⇒ Easy to accomplish

Resource Persons:

Mark Mechling, Extension
Educator, Muskingum Co.

Ted Wiseman, Extension
Educator, Perry County

If you have questions concerning access, wish to request a sign language interpreter or accommodations for a disability, please contact Mark Mechling at 740.454.0144. All educational programs conducted by Ohio State University Extension are available to clientele on a nondiscriminatory basis without regard to race, color, creed, religion, sexual orientation, national origin, gender, age, disability or Vietnam-era veteran status. Issued in furtherance of Cooperative Extension work, Acts of May 8 and June 30, 1914, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Keith L. Smith, Director, Ohio State University Extension.

Send registration form & fee (checks made payable to OSU Extension) by November 20 to:

OSU Extension- Muskingum Co.
225 Underwood Street
Zanesville, OH 43701

Phone: 740.454.0144
Fax: 740.454.0154
Email: mechling.1@osu.edu

Name _____

Address _____

Phone _____

E-mail _____