

News Release

Focusing on the value of “Fresh and Local” food production is the centerpiece of the Mohican Valley Farm Festival. Four farms engaged in the production and marketing of agricultural products invite you to enjoy a day of learning and visiting these central – Ohio farm operations. The farms feature a wide range of enterprises; vegetable production, free range poultry, certified organic poultry processing, orchard and small fruit production and well as horticulture. A variety of workshops and seminars will be offered for both consumers and farm producers. The farms are located in Ashland County between Wooster and Mansfield just three miles from US Route 30.
