

Are Deer Eating
Your Profits?

OSU South Centers Presents
Are Deer Eating Your Profits?

Friday, November 2
9:30 – 3:30

Are your fields and gardens turning into a buffet for deer? Can you only plant marigolds because deer eat everything else? If so, don't miss this workshop and get advice on how to exclude deer from your land.

Specialists in deer biology and control will provide valuable insight on how to protect your land from the increasing deer population. You'll also hear from vendors on what is available on both a small and large scale for deer deterrent and exclusion. After lunch, you will tour the fields of OSU South Centers and view their deer fencing systems and learn the pros and cons of the many options available.

Here's your opportunity to spend a day with the experts and learn valuable ways to protect your crops and plants while increasing your yield by reducing damage from deer.

Workshop is limited to the first 75 paid registrants
